

NEW SHOWERS REVOLUTIONIZING EVERYDAY WELLNESS WITH CUSTOMIZED SOLUTIONS

Full-fledged domestic architectures concentrate aesthetic purity, innovation and personalization

By MANUELA DI MARI 08/01/2022

The bathroom hasn't been the same since new shower cabins were introduced as spaces searching for harmony between body and psyche. Designers and companies have transformed them from simple cabins for everyday hygiene into elaborate, elegant and high-performing concepts capable of redesigning the flexibility of the entire space and lending it new functionalities. Here, aesthetics and technology go hand in hand. It's a celebration to minimalism that emerges — an extreme formal cleaning where everything disappears from sight. Closing systems, handles, profiles, and frames are drastically reduced in volume and bulk, just like the thickness of glass slabs whose performance remains uncompromised, even in large dimensions. The elevated technological standard of materials, in some cases exclusive and patented, allow for them to work on the “oversized”, creating personalized solutions for every space or style. What's more, an extreme curation of details is also aimed at facilitating cleanliness and hygiene.

Materials used for the cabins of Ibra Showers by Arbi Arredobagno are increasingly cutting-edge, now integrated with 6-8 mm thick glass proposed in various configurations. Geacril with a rock-effect finish, Tekorstone with a slate effect, Tekno Resina, Tekno Deimos, Laminam or stoneware allow for extreme versatility in the design thanks to different dimensions available paired with trending colors. The shower pan and elegant yet resistant cladding panels complete the composition, creating an oasis of wellness both visually and physically to indulge in a bit of relaxation.
